

GUIDE TO YOUTH HOUSING PROJECT

What is Youth Housing Project?

The Youth Housing Project (YHP) provides supported accommodation to young people, aged between 16 and 21, who are living away from home. The aim is to give young people some experience of living independently in their own flat. YHP employs Support Practitioners to assist tenants with any problems/issues they may encounter whilst living in our housing. The YHP Tenancy Management Worker is responsible for property management, and provides support about tenancy issues, such as - leases, rent and maintenance.

It is important when considering if YHP is right for you – "Do I really need or want support from youth workers?" We expect that our tenants will be open to having regular contact (minimum fortnightly) with workers. If you do not require support from youth workers, we can provide you with information about other types of housing that may be available to you.

Some of the type of things people may require support with are:

- Budgeting skills
- Maintaining your unit by keeping it clean and tidy
- Shopping and cooking
- dealing with friends who may see your home as a place to crash
- living as part of a community
- getting health problems sorted out
- Relationships and boundaries around relationships
- coping with things that have happened to you in the past
- where to go to sort out legal issues
- Education and employment

The workers at YHP may be able to assist you with some issues; put you in touch with other people who can; or can just be an understanding ear.

- To be consulted about your needs and what you would like to achieve. This will often occur at planning meetings between workers and yourself, which will be held every 12 weeks.
